FOURTH DEFENSE

FIFTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's complaint and each count claimed therein fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

SIXTH DEFENSE

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims against Defendants are barred by the merger doctrine.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims against Defendants are barred by the statute of frauds.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's injuries were the result of an intervening or superseding cause or the acts of third parties over which Defendants had no responsibility or control and for which Defendants may not be held liable.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

On the occasion complained of, Plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence which proximately caused or contributed to the injuries alleged in the complaint.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims against Defendants are barred because he could not have reasonably relied on any alleged misrepresentations made by the Defendants.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

Defendants plead that the transactions alleged were voluntarily undertaken, that the Plaintiff had the opportunity, if not the obligation, to read all documents presented to or signed by the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff knowingly entered into the transactions, having either understood the transactions or having failed to avail himself of the opportunity to understand the transactions, and that the transactions are now complete, paid and satisfied.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims against Defendants have been released.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims are barred by his own fraudulent conduct.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

The claims asserted in the Complaint are barred by any bankruptcy case filed by Plaintiff, based on the doctrines of res judicata, judicial estoppel, 11 U.S.C. § 1327(a), 11 U.S.C. § 704, 11 U.S.C. § 541, waiver, equitable estoppel, and release. Moreover, as a result of those prior proceedings, Plaintiff is not the real party in interest to bring the present claims and lacks standing to pursue the causes of action.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

There is no basis in fact or law for Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages in the complaint. Moreover, an award of punitive damages in this case would serve no purpose for which punitive damages are awarded in Alabama.

TWENTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff is not entitled to recover punitive damages pursuant to ALA. CODE § 6-11-20.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff is not entitled to recover punitive damages in excess of $500,000 pursuant to ALA. CODE § 6-11-21.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages against Defendants cannot be upheld to the extent they are in violation of any law passed by the United States Congress or the Alabama Legislature limiting awards of punitive damages.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages cannot be upheld to the extent they contravene the principles established by United States Supreme Court in BMW v. Gore, 116 S.Ct. 1589 (1996), Cooper Indus., Inc. v. Leatherman Tool Group, Inc., 532 U.S. 424 (2001), and State Farm Mut.

Auto Ins. Co. v. Campbell, 538 U.S. 408 (2003), prohibiting the imposition of grossly excessive or arbitrary punitive damage awards.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages, and the provisions of Alabama law governing the right to recover punitive damages or the determination of the amount of punitive damages, violate the United States Constitution, the Alabama Constitution and/or the common law or the public policies of the United States and Alabama on the following grounds:

(a) It is a violation of the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution to impose punitive damages, which are penal in nature, against a civil defendant, upon Plaintiff satisfying a burden of proof which is less than the beyond a reasonable doubt standard required in criminal cases.

(b) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded fail to provide a reasonable limit on the amount of a punitive award against a defendant, which violates Defendants' rights to due process guaranteed by the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(c) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded fail to provide specific standards for the amount of the award of punitive damages, which deprives Defendants of due process of law in violation of the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(d) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded are unconstitutionally vague, indefinite and uncertain, and they deprive Defendants of due process of law in violation of the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(e) An award of punitive damages in this case would constitute a deprivation of property without due process of law.

(f) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded may result in the imposition of different or disparate penalties for the same or similar acts, which deprives Defendants of their rights to equal protection and due process in violation of the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(g) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages against Defendants cannot be sustained because an award of punitive damages under Alabama law subject to no predetermined limit, such as a maximum multiple of compensatory damages or a maximum amount, on the amount of punitive damages that a jury may impose, including an amount possibly in excess of the amount authorized by the Alabama Criminal Code for the same or similar conduct, and providing no protection against multiple awards of punitive damages for the same course of conduct, will violate Defendants' due process and equal protection rights under the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution. Further, to allow such an award would be improper under the common law and/or public policies of the State of Alabama.

(h) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded permit the imposition of excessive fines in violation of the Eighth Amendment of the United States Constitution, Article I, § 15 and Article I, § 1 of the Alabama Constitution, and in violation of Defendants' due process rights.

(i) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages against Defendants cannot be sustained because any award of punitive damages under Alabama law would violate Defendants' due process rights inasmuch as juries are allowed to award punitive damages as they see fit or as a matter of moral discretion without adequate or specific standards as to the amount necessary to punish and deter and without a necessary relationship to the amount of actual harm caused.

(j) Plaintiff's claims of punitive damages, and the provisions of Alabama law governing the right to recover punitive damages or the determination of punitive damages are unconstitutionally vague, indefinite and uncertain, and they deprive Defendants of due process of law.

(k) Plaintiff's claims of punitive damages, and the provisions of Alabama law governing the right to recover punitive damages or the determination of punitive damages cause Defendants to be treated differently from other similarly situated persons/entities by subjecting Defendants to liability beyond the actual loss, if any, caused by Defendants' conduct, if any, and to liability determined without clearly defined principles, standards and limits on the amount of such awards.

(l) Plaintiff's claims of punitive damages, and the provisions of Alabama law governing the right to recover punitive damages or the determination of punitive damages subject Defendants to punishment for the conduct of others through vicarious liability, respondent superior, or through nonapportionment of damages among joint tortfeasors based on the respective enormity of their alleged misconduct, in violation of Defendants' due process rights under the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(m) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages, and the provisions of Alabama law governing the right to recover punitive damages or the determination of punitive damages expose Defendants to the risk of indefinable, unlimited liability unrelated to the actual loss caused by Defendants' conduct, creating a chilling effect on Defendants' exercise of its right to a judicial resolution of this dispute.

(n) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded are not rationally related to legitimate government interests.

(o) The procedures pursuant to which punitive damages are awarded subject Defendants to punishment under a law not fully established before the alleged offense.

(p) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages are barred to the extent that they seek the admission into evidence of Defendants' net worth in determining whether punitive damages are to be awarded and/or in what amount they are to be awarded because punitive damages are a form of punishment that is grounded in a defendant's status rather than in specific misconduct, and thus has the effect of treating classes of citizens unequally in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution and Article I, §§ 1, 6, 13, and 22 of the Alabama Constitution.

(q) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages against Defendants cannot be upheld, because any award of punitive damages under Alabama law without bifurcating the trial of all punitive damages would violate Defendants' due process rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution and the Alabama Constitution.

(r) Punitive damages are a form of criminal or quasi-criminal sanctions. Therefore, Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages cannot be upheld, because an award of punitive damages without the same protections that are accorded criminal defendants, including, but not limited to, protection against searches and seizures, double jeopardy and self-incrimination and the rights to confront adverse witnesses, to proof by evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, and to a speedy trial would violate Defendants' rights under the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and Article 1, §§ 1, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, 13 and 22 of the Alabama Constitution. These rights will be violated unless Defendants are afforded the safeguards guaranteed by these provisions, including, but not limited to, the right to separate trials if requested by it for the determination of liability for compensatory and punitive damages, as well as for the determination of the amount of punitive damages, if any.

(s) Plaintiff's claims for punitive damages against Defendants cannot be upheld, because an award of punitive damages under Alabama law for the purpose of compensating Plaintiff for elements of damage not otherwise recognized by Alabama law would violate Defendants' due process rights guaranteed by the United States Constitution and by the due process provisions of the Alabama Constitution.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims are precluded to the extent he is a member of a class action filed prior to this matter. In that event, his claims must be pursued in those cases.

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

Plaintiff's claims are precluded to the extent he is a member of a class action that has already adjudicated. Thus, his claims are due to be dismissed.

Defendants reserve the right to assert additional defenses as discovery progresses in this case. To the extent that any of the foregoing allegations in the complaint have not been expressly admitted or denied, they are hereby denied.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert H. Rutherford (RUT002)
David A. Elliott (ELL027)
